Dear User Test,

You've received this e-mail because we've have been notified that you want to delete your account. After deleting your account will permanently loose all your informations stored on our website.

I understand this and I want to delete My Account.

At the bottom left, there are links for "About Us" and "Customer Service".
