

Request for Price

Version: 1.0.0

Overview

Request for Price extension enables customers to ask for product prices from a store's product pages and product listing page, by clicking on user-friendly, customized text in place of just viewing the original product price. The extension initiates a two-way communication between store owners and customers. The store owner can hide original product prices and replace product price with personalized text such as contact number, WhatsApp, email address, an image, a discount or coupon, etc. It encourages customers to click on the personalized text and contact store admin to ask for product price. Store owner gets notification through the email or contact number and can also check price request updates on admin grid where they can respond to the customer's request.

Request for Price extension provides customers a way to negotiate your product prices. Store owners can convince customers for product purchasing instead of just losing them by displaying original pricing. Hence, the extension helps to create a mutually beneficial relationship between customers and store owners. This way, the store owner can build trust, generate more leads, lift product sales and can also make long-term customer relationships!

The Purpose

The team of Request for Price is passionate to create the long-term relationships between customers and the store owners. Using this extension, the customers can negotiate for lower product price and store owners can acquire more leads & conversions.
