Extension Usage

Configuration

All shipping restriction rules can be managed via Sales > Shipping Restriction Rules. This page will provide an overview of all rules. From here rules can be added, edited and removed.

You can create an unlimited amount of shipping restriction rules with this module.

The screenshot shows the 'Rules' management interface. At the top right, there is a search icon, a notification bell with '2', and a user profile 'demo'. Below this is a large orange 'Add New Rule' button. The main area contains a table with the following data:

ID	Name	Start	End	Status	Priority	Store Views	Action
1	No free shipping during weekdays	May 01, 2022	May 31, 2022	Active	0	All Store Views	Edit

Clicking the 'Add New Rule' button will redirect you to the page where a new rule can be created.

A rule can be changed by clicking on the 'Edit' link in the action column of the rule. Rules can be deleted via the Actions dropdown or via the edit page of a rule itself.

This screenshot is identical to the previous one, but with the 'Actions' dropdown menu open. The dropdown menu is positioned over the first row of the table and contains the following options: 'Delete', 'Disable', and 'Enable'. The text '1 records found (1 selected)' is visible next to the dropdown.

Functioning of the module

Shipping restrictions rules can be applied to both front-end and backend. In case a rule is applicable for one or more shipping methods, the methods in questions will be hidden and cannot be selected by the customer or administrator.
